

Contributors to this number

Ana Paula da Silva has a doctorate from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro and a post doctorate from the University of São Paulo. She is presently on the faculty of the Federal University of Viçosa, where she carries out research on national identity, Sport, gender, ethnicity race and prostitution. Email: ana51@uol.com.br

Andressa Raylane Bento studies medicine at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro, Macaé. Her work is supervised by Thaddeus Gregory Blanchette. E-mail: andressa_raylane@hotmail.com

Bela Feldman-Bianco, a Columbia University PhD with postdoctoral studies in history at Yale, is a senior professor at the Graduate Program of Social Anthropology at UNICAMP and associate director of its Center for the Study of International Migrations (CEMI). Her research and publications focus on issues related to culture and power with emphasis on globalization, transnational migrations, nation and identities in comparative perspective. She is the past president of the Brazilian Association of Anthropology and currently chairs the ABA Committee on Migration and Displacements and co-chairs the AAA Committee on World Anthropologies. E-mail bfb@uol.com.br

Desirée Azevedo obtained her Masters degree in Social Anthropology from State University of Campinas, Brazil. She is currently a doctoral student and researcher at the Center for International Migration Studies (CEMI) at the same University. Her research interests include Migration, Memory, Identities, Human Rights, Violence and Politics. E-mail: desireelazevedo@gmail.com

Douglas Mansur da Silva obtained his doctorate in Social Anthropology from the National Museum of the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro. From 2008 to 2009 he was a post-doctoral researcher at the Social Science Institute at the University of Lisbon, Portugal. He is currently on the faculty of the Social Science Department and researcher at Contemporary Culture and Power Studies Group (CPC), both at the Federal University of Viçosa. He is also a researcher at the Center for International Migration Studies (CEMI) at the State University of Campinas.

E-mail: douglas.mansur@ufv.br

Giralda Seyferth is a professor at the Graduate Program in Social Anthropology at the Museu Nacional, UFRJ. She obtained her doctorate in Human Sciences from the University of São Paulo in 1976. Currently she works on the following lines of research: International Migrations, Anthropology of Minorities, Anthropology of Rural Workers.

E-mail: gseyfert@gmail.com

Guilherme Mansur Dias is a researcher at the Center of International Migration Studies (CEMI) at the State University of Campinas (Unicamp). He is completing his doctorate at the Graduate Program in Social Anthropology of Unicamp. His current research provides a historical perspective on the migration and human trafficking debate in Europe and analyzes the ways in which this debate has been shaped and approached in Brazil.

E-mail: guiboamansur@yahoo.com.br

Laura Lowenkron has a doctorate degree in Social Anthropology from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (Museu Nacional/UFRJ). In 2012, she joined the Center for Gender Studies Pagu of the State University of Campinas (Unicamp), with a postdoctoral fellowship from FAPESP. Areas of interest are: Political Anthropology, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Childhood, Violence, Pedophilia, Human Trafficking.

Email: lauralowenkron@uol.com.br

Liliana Sanjurjo obtained her doctorate and Masters in Social Anthropology from the State University of Campinas, Brazil. She is currently a researcher at the Center for International Migration Studies (CEMI) at the State University of Campinas and is pursuing postdoctoral research at the Migration Studies Laboratory (LEM) at the Federal University of São Carlos. Her research interests include Migration, Identities, Memory, Nation, Human Rights, Violence, Transitional Justice and Social Movements.

E-mail: lilisanj@yahoo.com.br

Livio Sansone (Palermo, Italy, 1956) got his PhD from the University of Amsterdam (1992) and teaches anthropology at the Federal University of Bahia (UFBA). He has published on youth culture, ethnicity, inequalities, international transit of ideas of race and antiracism, and globalization with research based in the UK, Holland, Suriname, Brazil and, recently, Cape Verde, Senegal and Guiné Bissau. Presently he is carrying out research on the network that linked the Cesare Baruch Lombroso school of positive criminal anthropology in Italy to Latin America and Africa.

Email: sansone@ufba.br

Menara Lube Guizard has a doctorate from the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid (Espanha). She currently teaches at the Instituto de Pesquisas do Rio de Janeiro (Brasil) and is an associate fellow of the Universidad de Tarapacá (Chile).

E-mail: menaraguizardi@yahoo.com.br

Natália Corazza is a doctoral student in the Graduate Program in Social Anthropology at UNICAMP. She has been conducting research in women's penitentiaries in the city of São Paulo. Her doctoral research in progress, "About Affairs and Marriages," focuses on loving relationships lived in the space of women's prisons in the city of São Paulo.

Email: nataliacorazzap@yahoo.com.br, nataliapadovani@hotmail.com.

Blog: <http://vermelhasruasmentoladas.wordpress.com/>

Paulo Renato Guérios has a doctorate in Social Anthropology from the National Museum and is professor in the Department of Anthropology at the Federal University of Paraná. His thesis on the Ukrainian immigration to Paraná was published by Editora UFPR (2012).

E-mail: pguerios@ig.com.br, pguerios@ufpr.br

Pedro Paulo Gomes Pereira has a doctorate in Anthropology from the University of Brasília. He was a postdoctoral fellow at the University of Barcelona, and is currently Federal a professor at the University of São Paulo.

His areas of interest are the body, health, disease, AIDS, anthropology of biomedicine and technologies.

Email: pedropaulopereira@hotmail.com

Thaddeus Gregory Blanchette has a doctorate from the National Museum, Federal University of Rio de Janeiro. He is presently on the faculty of the same university. His interests are migrations, anthropological theory, political anthropology, prostitution and human trafficking.

E-mail: macunaima30@yahoo.com.br